TWO BRAVE OFFICERS

Arrayed Against Each Other at Close of Their Official Lives

AN AFTERMATH OF SHAME

Broadbrim Deplores the Great National Scandal As He Does the Retirement of Good Men.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE NO. 1273]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—A half a hundred years have past since the news crossed the ocean — not by electric telegraph nor Marconi's miraculous discovery which has set the whole world aflame with the woodrous possibilities of lightning in the future; it was a good, stout old sailing schooner that brought the news of the Yankee triumph in a sailing match almost the first of a national character ever sailed on the sea. Victoria, the gracious lady, the ruler of a hundred million of our race, had given a cup that should stand as an evidence of superiority between English and Yankee ship building. For years the old fashioned Baltimore clipper stood as a model for everything fast upon the sea; even the Empire state of New York had yielded to Baltimore the palm of supremacy; but it is a long lane that has no turning and Baltimore awoke one morning to the fact that there was a something and a somebody that had created a new model, the supremacy of which was unchallenged for half a hundred years. There were many aspiring argonauts who desired in their hearts to carry the cup back to her gracious majesty and lay it at her feet, saying: "That the prize thou hast cast upon the waters hath returned after many days."

In these international races money was no object. It was the fair, square, honest supremacy. A competition unclouded by stock jobbing or gambling. It was in the same spirit that distinguished the cross of the Legion of Honor, a prize immortal, or the Victoria cross, for the possession of which hundreds of thousands of brave men have died in sight of the promised land, happy in being able to make that loyal sacrifice. Millions of money have been staked on Britain's supremacy on the sea, but after a trial covering fifty years, once more our British friends have been compelled to acknowl dge the friendly superiority, for it was a very slight margin on which that supremacy had been maintained, and when we consider that in a thirty mile race the victory was only maintained by a few minutes, it was that kind of a victory that left nothing of the bitterness of defeat behind it, for a mere fluke, a chance that might not have occurred again in a hundred years, a puff of wind, a broken spar, an ugly twist of some rope yarn in the halyards, and the American cup might now be skimming along the sea, headed for the land whose national anthem is "Rule Brittania: Brittania Rules the Wave," and as we part with this cherished souvenir, which has been a welcome visitor and a very dear friend, we would have said from the bottom of our hearts, "Au revoir, but not goodbye." The world has at the present time its share of wars and rumors of wars. In point of fact, I rather think we have more than our share. For a hundred years we tried to get along with a little army of 25,000 men, and even that small army was thought to be a heavy tax upon the people. When an increase was spoken of, in its mind's eye it was supposed to be winking at an imperial dynasty, an empire or nothing: a republic was not good enough for them: they wanted a big, loud sounding title.

Not so many years ago when a foreign traveler, passing through our land and never having met an untitled citizen, it was either squire, general, corporal or something of that sort. The globe trotter looked amazed as a list of these titles were rehearsed to him and said, "My dear sir, I have seen many titled personages in this country but where the devil is your army?" The Yankee looked at the traveler half seriously, half comical, and said, "Yes, my dear sir, in times of peace we all have titles, but when it comes war, with real genuine fighting we have privates enough to whip all creation." It is a matter now of serious thought, as we get closer to the goal of our ambition and as near an empire as a republic dare come, how shall this aggregation of new states be governed? As we stand in New York or the capitol at Washington today, one-half of our republic is beneath our feet, from eight to twelve thousand miles are two of our colonies, large enough for an empire. The Philippines alone could support a hundred millions of people. The Sandwich islands, one of the most productive pieces of land on the face of the earth is now spoken of as one of our smaller colonies.

As Honolulu looks toward the Antarctic pole up to the present time it is spoken of as unknown quantity. Right about face, and before you, nine thousand miles away, glittering with golden treasures which were hardly thought of four decades ago, and if the new discoveries are duplicated, as they have been in the last few years, this barren border of our frozen zone may yet become the treasure house of the world. With the increase of population and of their almost boundless desires, it is a marvel of marvels how each new set keeps pace with the one that preceded it, and with our increased abundance, our large fields of ambition. The means keep trend with our expenditures, and after the wonderful discoveries of the last few years there is no superabundance of treasure in our money market. Every pound, dollar or ducket seems to be swallowed up by our advancing wants. The man who was satisfied to progress at the rate of ten or twelve miles an hour not a hundred years ago, if he had lived would have traveled in a special train at the rate of from 60 to 100 miles an hour.

On the ninth of October in the year of grace 1901, two of the most exalted of our naval officers stepped down and out from their high estates and the places that knew them once shall know them no more forever. Why is this? Why do we take a citizen in the very flower of his manhood, in the perfection of his matured experience and cast him aside like a piece of damaged delft which mars the unity of a well dressed table and which in comparison with the cheapest crockery would be beautiful when spread by a person of tase and much more tolerable and inviting.

The Military school at West Point for the Army and the Naval academy at Annapolis for the Navy are the only educational institutions supported by the national government. It is here we take the young hayseed fresh from the barn yard and plow and hammer him into shape to become a gentleman and an officer among the foremost of his country's defenders. To prevent him from becoming a charge on his family the government gives him $10 a week. You will observe that the system prevailing at either institution is altogether different from that pursued by the ordinary American citizen. If the ordinary American citizen wants an education he has to pay a good round sum for every bit of knowledge he receives, and after exhausting the intellectual possibilities of his college he is cast adrift to sink or swim, whichever he may elect. The first lesson taught at either of our national academies is that the student is made of superior clay and as a fitting consequence he must look down on the ordinary American citizen who gives him his education and board after twenty-five or thirty years since he first slung his hammock on a man-o'-war till by the regular rule of promotion he finds himself a gouty old admiral ready to retire on half pay, which with ordinary provision ought not to be less than $8,000 per year.

He may have the gout and barnacles growing all over him; if he should lay aloft he would have to crawl through the lubbers' hole to reach the maintop. The reason for mentioning these things now is because two excellent naval officers retired to private life on the 9th of the present month. The age limit does wrong to the officer in the first place and robs the national treasury in the second place of pay for unearned service and deprives the country of his knowledge for which he has been paid. At the age of which he has been driven into obscurity his knowledge is most mature, and that having been paid for, is the nation's property. The trial now going on in the city of Washington, where Rear Admiral Schley is one of the principals and Rear Admiral Sampson the other. No scene more pitiful has ever disgraced our naval annals. Here are two brave officiers at the close of their official lives arrayed against each other with charges which involve a national scandal. Who believes that Winfield Scott Schley is a coward? Do they prove it by the Battle of Santiago? A coward runs away from danger. His government had given him one of its finest ships and now came the time to use it. It was the last and greatest opportunity of his life. Now, what did Winfield Scott Schley do? The Spanish admiral was about to escape. Schley, in the face of the murderous fire dashed down for the Reina Mercedes. Some one suggested that he was blanketing the Texas. It was said that with a little mild profanity he told the Texas to take care of herself. The closing act of two honorable lives will follow them with their bitterness to their graves. For them no Lethe, no Depenthe, nothing but an aftermath of sorrow and shame.

MR. TREADWAY DENIES

That He Forged a Certificate for Miss Sharpless.

SERIOUS CHARGES ARE MADE

He Says He Knew From the First Payroll That She Received Too Much Salary and Wanted Her to Resign.

Prof G. E. Treadway, who was charged before the Allegheny school controllers by Miss Sharpless with having forged a certificate in order that she might draw a larger salary than her experience in school work gave her, has published a card in the Pittsburg Leader in which he gives his version of the matter

Mr. Treadway has gone to Allegheny from this county for the purpose of entering a denial and having the statement made by Miss Sharpless investigated by the board. The card as published in the Leader follows:

"Miss Sharpless and I have not been friends for years, and I desire to say that she has not confessed anything. I, myself, revealed the fact that she had overdrawn her salary, and not until such was revealed had she ever felt any conscience stricken feeling. I never prepared, help prepare nor handed to the secretary of the school board any document for Miss Sharpless except a paper in reply to questions submitted to all the teachers of Allegheny by Superintendent Morrow. In that paper which was prepared by her in her own hand writing and signed by her that she had taught in Ohio for 48 months, and she expressly stated to me at that time that she had to make it correspond with the blank in the hands of the secretary of the school board. She drew consciously and willingly $740 unearned salary from Allegheny City and used it herself and why any one could believe I had been a party to it, other than failing to report such doings, is beyond my conception. I never got one cent other than $18 per month, which she paid monthly for board and room

"I knew from the time the first pay roll was made out that she was overdrawing, but rather than expose her, my niece, and her mother my sister, I let it go for one month and from that time so long as I remained as principal. I tried to get her to resign and go home.

"She declined to do that after repeated efforts on my part and on the part of several others during the second month of her teaching here and not until I had made it known to members of the Eighth ward board and Mr. Fleeson, of the Fifth ward board, who called upon her, did she offer her explanation and place the blame upon me, her uncle, who had never in any wise profited therefrom, for no other reason than that she declined to perform her official work as a teacher.

"She neglected her drawing, writing, singing and falsified her reports as to tardiness of herself until I admonished her. It was necessary for me to even go so far as to write her parents of her slothful way of doing her school work

"From that time hence she keenly watched for opportunities to involve me in school and domestic troubles. She is one of the most thankless creatures that ever I have come in contact with. She could not but know and how she could sign the pay roll with other beginning teachers drawing $35 per month and her $55 without having detected before two years, is false and unworthy of belief. I have often told her when trying to pursuade her to go home, that if she was found out she would serve a term in prison, and did advise her not to associate with the teachers because she was my niece and I wished her to become familiar with city ways before making associates, besides I was always afraid she would expose herself.

"I am here to remain temporarily and am ready at any time to answer any further inquires regarding my connection with the matter. Yours respectfully. "G. E. Treadway."

IT IS ALL OVER NOW

Friday of the Fair Was an Unusual Success.

BIG CROWD AND GOOD WEATHER

Made Everybody Enjoy the Occasion Watching the Races or Wandering in the Grove.

The jubilee fair of the Coshocton Agricultural society has passed into history and the managers as well as the people are satisfied. It was an exposition that will rank with any in Ohio and in spite of the diphtheria scare in the county and the bad weather of Wednesday night, will take a place in point of attendance.

The beautiful weather of Friday brought out the people. Coshocton and surrounding towns contributed in the main to the crowd, and there were no adverse circumstances to take pleasure from those who went to the fairground to spend the time pleasantly. The young man and his best girl appeared happy, exhibitors were pleased with the advertisement they had received, fakirs jingled silver coin or tucked away the long green, horsemen expressed satisfaction at the races and the crowd as a whole did not complain. The last day of the fair was to all appearances the most enjoyable.

The usual scenes attending the last hours appeared soon after noon and horses, cattle and sheep bearing the scarlet and blue premium ribbons, and some without decorations, were started on their way home. Speeders that had no more business on the track were carefully loaded in the railroad yards and started away, and the candy man, the popcorn man and the man with the show began to cut prices. The merry-go-round gave you two rides for the price of one and the price of provisions took a sudden drop. There was no mistaking it was the last day.

The grandstand was filled to overflowing throughout the afternoon and the people saw much better racing than on Thursday. There was a snap about every heat that went well with the weather and the spirits of the people and the program was finished in good time. Starter Bernard laid down the law and the law in this instance allowed no delay.

The second heat of the 2:19 pace was a horse race between two Coshocton horses. Harry T, owned by W. Q. Barnes had won the first heat with Annie Watson, L. W. Pocock's familiar mare, in second place. In the second Annie went to the front and kept her place until she entered the stretch. Harry, who had been following only a short distance behind spurted well and slowly forged ahead. He held the place gained but the finish was sensational, Annie following within half a length to the wire. At times she was only a neck from her opponent Black Queen and Bell Whiteworth had a warm contest for fourth place. T. L. M. was unfortunate in that his bike broke and he did not finish the heat.

The 2:24 trot was marked by the splendid work of Jim Fenton. The horses were well bunched in the first until Fenton broke away and won. Daisy lost her feet in the second three times and galloped under the wire. Captivity made a bold effort and won the third from Fenton.

The 2:40 trot was fast for its class, and in the second the horses finished as they started. Miss Wonder gave Lady Lillian a lively chase at times.

The running race was won by Round O, his jockey going under the wire without using his whip. Complaint was made in the manner the horses got away, but horsemen know that that the rule allows the starter to give the word even though the horses are not nose and nose.

SEVEN THOUSAND

Was the Estimated Crowd at the Fairground Friday.

The attendance Friday was larger than usual, the officers placing the number of people on the ground at 7,000. The number of 25 cent tickets sold was 5,780, and taking this as a basis the opinion is expressed that 7,000 is by no means a large estimate of the crowd.

THEY FEAR A SNARE.

Difficult to Negotiate With the Bold Brigands.

ATTEMPTS AT CAPTURE A MISTAKE.

Portion of the Ransom Soon to Be Turned Over to the Outlaws—Search by Troops Abandoned—Uncle Sam's Policy—Another Urgent Appeal For Funds.

Constantinople, Oct. 12.—The United States legation here has received formation, which is withheld, of some expected important developments in the Stone abduction affair. On Tuesday it was supposed an attempt would be made to capture the band, but nothing has been heard since Monday, when Mr. Haskell reached Samakoff. He is not provided with funds, but has been empowered to arrange the lowest terms. The attempts to capture the band have made the brigands shy of future traps, thus rendering negotiations difficult. Such tactics are severely criticised here. The brigands may, in revenge, kill their captive. Moreover, the fact that no money was produced on the first demand may cause the brigands to mutilate Miss Stone as a warning.

In compliance with an urgent request from the American government, the search by Ottoman troops for the abductors of Miss Stone, the American missionary, has been abandoned, it being feared that the brigands would kill her should they be closely pressed. Arrangements are now being made to pay the ransom demanded.

Roosevelt's Probable Policy.

London, Oct. 12. — After detailing the history of the abduction of Miss Stone, The Spectator remarks: "President Roosevelt and the Washington cabinet maintain justly that the sultan is responsible, as it is his misgovernment which provokes and protects brigandage, and they intend to demand reparation from the porte. It will not be limited, we imagine, to £25,000. The porte will be required to punish the authors of the outrage, and as Turkey is sure to shuffle and America is tired of being played with, a naval demonstration is quite on the cards."

Another Appeal For Funds.

Boston, Oct. 12.—The misunderstanding existing in various parts of the country, indicated especially in private advices received here as to progress of the fund to ransom Miss Stone, the missionary, is considered to be of sufficient reason for the issuance of another appeal for funds by the clergymen who signed the first one. The idea is to impress upon the people of America the danger which still threatens Miss Stone.

Wool Conditions.

Boston, Oct. 12.—The increased shipments do not represent a more active wool market. Beyond one or two large sales the market is decidedly quiet, though dealers are sold so far ahead that quotations are particularly strong. Nearly 1,000,000 pounds of new Montana, mostly staple fine medium, at 18 cents, has been moved this week, and 300 bales of South American quarter-blood cross breds were sold at 24 cents, the highest price paid this year. The new wool season has opened in Australia, with sales at Adelaide 15 to 20 per cent higher than last year's opening. The use of wool in the United States is markedly increasing. The reaction from fleece-lined cotton underwear to merino and all-wool garments is worthy of notice. Knitting mills that have not been in the wool market for two years have been buying scoured wools this week.

WESLEYAN BEQUESTS.

Executors of the Mast Will Raise a Point—Ohio News.

Springfield, O., Oct. 12.—In a suit by the executors of the will of the late P. P. Mast they request the court to decide if the Ohio Wesleyan university has forfeited the right to a bequest of $100,000 for a library because it already has a library and can not use this money. The executors also question the right of the university to the use of the Mast homestead, worth $100,000, because it is not used for university purposes, as the will specified.

Burglars Wreck a Building.

Wooster, O., Oct. 12.—At Shreve, a small town in this county, the entire north end and roof of the 2-story building used by Craig & Company, grain buyers, were blown down by burglars. So much dynamite was used that the heavy doors on the large safe were thrown clear across the street. The burglars did not get into the strong box, which held several hundred dollars. The doors to the village bank were also pried open. Here the cracksmen found $1.60 in change. They escaped.

Now In Jail.

Springfield, O., Oct. 12.—George W. Thatcher, who is under indictment for the alleged forgery of $296,000 on P. P. Mast, was surrendered to sheriff by his bondsman, L. F. Young, and is now in jail with small probability of another bondsman being found. The Mercer heirs refused to stand by Thatcher, and Young declined to stand the responsibility alone.

Probable Fatal Fall.

Niles, O., Oct. 12.—Abraham Cline, a wealthy farmer living near this city, fell from an apple tree. He alighted upon his back across a pile of rails, breaking three ribs and receiving internal injuries. The victim is over 70 years old and his injuries will likely prove fatal.

Bound Over.

Hamilton, O., Oct. 12.—William Barrett, one of the suspects in the Seidensticker diamond robbery case, was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $20,000 in police court, charged with the theft of $2,500 worth of diamonds on Aug. 8.

Farmer Suicides.

Upper Sandusky, O., Oct. 12.—Theodore Wright, 60, a farmer of Crawford township, blew the entire top of his head off with a shotgun. Brains and flesh clung to the ceiling and side of the room. No cause can be assigned for the act.

Cresceus' New Record.

Toledo, Oct. 12.—Cresceus gave an exhibition trot for charity and reduced the world's record on a half mile track to 2:09¼. The previous record made by him was 2:09¾. He also went a mile to wagon in 2:12.

Embezzlement Charged.

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 12.—James C. Adams, former city clerk of this city, was arrested at Cincinnati on an indictment for embezzlement returned by the last grand jury. A shortage of $1,059 is alleged.

Rich Haul by Cracksmen.

A Great Truth

may for a time be brushed aside, neglected or overlooked for some glittering fiction, but eventually it will burst forth strong in the fullness of its integrity. So it is with Kersey Overcoating. It is undoubtedly the most dressy and serviceable overcoating fabric that has ever been produced. It will look new for a longer time than any other overcoating fabric. From time to time it has been superseded in the favor of Overcoat buyers by some newer or novel fabric, but when one is tired of all others, one returns gratefully to the staunch, true Kersey.

This Season's Kersey Overcoats

are again becoming fashionable. We have received an assortment of smart Kersey Overcoats direct from the tailor shops of Stronse & Bros., High Art Clothing, Baltimore, Md. They come in Blue, Black, Oxford and dark Brown. The linings are rich Italian cloth, to the purest silk in the highest cost garments.

FRENCH METHOD

Of Dealing With Rabid Anarchists. A High Priest Sealed.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Laurent Tailhade, editor of Libertaire, the anarchist sheet, was tried before the correctional police tribunal for the article he published in Libertaire during the visit of Emperor Nicholas to France, inciting to the murder of the czar, President Loubet and the French ministers as "tyrants and oppressors of the people." He was sentenced to imprisonment for one year and to a fine of 1,000 francs. M. Grandidier, manager of Libertaire, was sentenced to imprisonment for six months and to a fine of 100 francs. The announcement of the judgment was followed by an ovation to Tailhade on the part of his sympathizers. Tailhade is an inveterate anarchist, although a man of great literary talent, to which M. Emile Zola and several other well known men of letters paid high tributes in court.

Newspaper Man Chosen.

Washington, Oct. 11.—John C. Williams, a well known newspaper correspondent in this city, has been appointed secretary to the United States delegates to the congress of American republics, to meet in the City of Mexico Oct. 21. Mr. Williams has a considerable acquaintance with the notable men of South and Central America, acquired through his diplomatic work here.

Took the Oath.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 11.—Ex-Governor Thomas G. Jones, recently appointed federal judge for the middle and northern district of Alabama, took the oath of office. The oath was administered by Chief Justice McClellan of the Alabama supreme court. Governor Jelks, the supreme court judges and other state, federal, county and city officials were present.

Strikers Sued.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 11.—The Western Flint Bottle company of Eaton applied for an injunction against 34 striking workmen at their bottle works and demanded $10,000 damages. It is alleged the strikers keep an armed picket about the plant and that the strikers' guards intimidate the men who could work by threatening them with guns and knives.

Tornado's Sweep.

Clifton, Kan., Oct. 11.—A tornado passed two miles north of this city, doing much damage to buildings. The path of the storm was about 80 rods wide, and everything was swept before it. Vague reports of casualties are coming in, but at present little investigation can be made.

Embezzlement Charged.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 11.—Lee F. Jones, formerly president of the naval stores and lumberman's bank of Cordele, was arrested in Macon on an indictment charging an embezzlement of $15,000 to $20,000 of the bank's funds two years ago. Jones had assumed the name of G. B. Smith.

Tableware Factory.

Wheeling, Oct. 11.—The tableware factory of the Central Glass company was destroyed by fire. Loss $50,000.

Mob Outwitted.

Madison, Fla., Oct. 11.—Will Jones, the negro desperado, who killed two people and seriously wounded several others, has been secretly removed to Tallahassee. He is wounded in nearly a dozen places and is expected to die. A mob of would-be lynchers appeared at the jail and demanded the negro, but he had been taken away. Another of Jones' victims, Anderson, the white man, who was hunting when shot, is dead. This makes three persons killed by Jones.

American Reverse.

Manilla, Oct. 11.—A detachment of the Twenty-first company of Macabebes encountered a large force of Filipinos near Lipa, province of Batangas. Lieutenant Beau, of the Macabebes, was killed and one of the force was wounded. The natives were strongly intrenched. After two hours fighting the Americans retreated to await reinforcements. The natives numbered over 300, were armed with Remington and Mauser rifles and apparently had plenty of ammunition.

Whitney's Latest Purchase.

New York, Oct. 11.—William C. Whitney is now the owner of the great filly, Endurance By Right. The horse was sold by John W. Schorr to John E. Madden, and Madden at once sold her to Whitney. Police Force Carried Off.

Manilla, Oct. 11.—The force of 11 police of Catanag, province of Tayabass, was carried off by Filipinos, armed only with bolos. Presumably the police made no resistance, though they were well armed with carbines and revolvers.

MISSIONARY BISHOPS

To Be Elected by the Episcopal House of Deputies.

FIVE NOMINATIONS ARE DULY MADE.

Both Branches of the Conference Are Wrestling With the Question of Marriage and Divorce, the Bishops Adopting a Substitute For a Proposed Canon—Other Proceedings.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—The house of bishops of the triennial convention of the Episcopal church of America nominated the following missionary bishops, to be elected by the house of deputies: For the district of Han Kow, Rev. James Addison Ingle, now of Han Kow. District of the Philippines, Rev. Charles H. Brunt, now of St. Stephen's, Boston. District of Olympia, Rev. Fred William Kaetor, now of Dubuque, Ia. District of Porto Rico and adjacent islands, Rev. William Cabell Brown, now connected with the mission of Brazil. District of North Dakota, Rev. Charles Campbell Pierce, U. S. A. The house of bishops adopted the eleventh and last amendment to the constitution.

The question of marriage and divorce was before both houses. The bishops, after debate, adopted a substitute for the proposed canon 37, providing for the discipline of persons marrying again after being divorced. The principal change made by the substitute is the provision that such person may receive the sacrament on the written consent of a bishop. The house of deputies began the eagerly awaited debate on section 4 of the proposed canon 36, which virtually prohibits the remarriage in the church of divorced persons. The discussion will be continued on Monday. The only vote reached during the day was on a proposed modification of Dr. Huntington's amendment providing for the determining the cause of divorce in the case of a divorced person applying to be married. This was defeated.

Canteen Again.

Pittsburg, Oct. 12. — The members of the permanent committee on temperance of the Presbyterian general assembly do not take kindly to the annual report of Surgeon General Sternberg. In it he declares: "Military officers may be said to be unanimous in their opinion that the steady decrease of late years of alcoholism in the regular army is mainly the result of the establishment of the post exchange or canteen at military posts." "I do not believe it," said William C. Lilley, treasurer of the committee. "The facts and figures and testimony in our possesison as a committee refute the statement, and Mr. Sternberg or any other army officer can not substantiate his statement." One year ago the committee was very active in presenting petitions to congress against the canteen. Now it is preparing to wage a still more effective warfare against the repeal of the present canteen law.

Ugly Charge.

Rochester, Minn., Oct. 12.—The grand jury of Dodge county has indicted Charles C. Hartley of Dodge Center for murder in the first degree. Hartley has been proprietor of the Dodge Center transfer house, which was destroyed by fire one night last June. On that night he met at the station and escorted to his hotel Miss Bertha Pelton, a schoolteacher of Kenyon, who was on her way to her home in Wisconsin. It is the theory of the state that Hartley killed the girl and then set fire to the hotel. Robbery is alleged to have been the motive.

Germany Moves.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—According to a special dispatch from Kiel, preparations on the German cruiser Falke are being hurried so that she may leave for South American waters next Tuesday. The Kiel correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt says: "The gunboat Panther, which is nearing completion in the imperial yards at Dantzic, is destined for use on the Amazon, the Orinoco and the Platte for the protection of German interests. She is of the improved Iltis type, with stronger artillery, and is capable of 13 knots."

Widow Held.

Denver, Oct. 12. — Mrs. E. Vallie, widow of Uplide Vallie, station agent of the Colorado and Southern railway at Jefferson, Colo., whose dead body was found near his home last Wednesday, his head having been beaten to a pulp, was arrested here upon the request of the Park county authorities. The coroner's jury fixed the murder of Vallie on Charles Baker, who formerly worked for Vallie on a ranch. Charges were made that Baker's motive was love for Mrs. Vallie, who was much younger than her husband.

Dying Man's Confession.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 12.—James Braddie, in a letter written Sept. 23 at Buffalo, N. Y., to Governor Durbin of Indiana, claims that Louis Jaquith, who is serving term of life imprisonment at Michigan City, Ind., for killing Policeman Samuel Cooper of South Bend, Ind., is not guilty. He further claims that he (Braddie) fired the fatal shots, and that he now makes confession because he is seriously ill. He has not, however, given himself up to the authorities, and states that it is not his intention to do so.

Machine Shop Destroyed.

Scottdale, Pa., Oct. 12.—The large machine shop and foundry of Kenney & Company of this place were destroyed by fire. The loss will reach $80,000, and over 100 men will be thrown out of work.

UTTERLY ROUTED

Was the Force of General Uribe-Uribe. South American Situation.

Colon, Colombia, Oct. 11. — An official bulletin, dated from Barranquilla, Oct. 6, makes the following statement but gives no details of the event referred to: The French ship Fournel brings news that General Uribe-Uribe was utterly routed at Tachira and arrived at Maracaibo on the morning of Oct. 3. News has been received here from Panama that the Chilean cruiser Ministro Zentene will shortly visit that port, in token of the Chilean government's high appreciation of the manifestations of respect when the remains of the late Senor Vicuna, the late Chilean minister to the United States, were crossing the isthmus.

Favor Peace.

Caracas, Venezuela, Oct. 11.—The idea of a peaceful, friendly and conclusive arrangement between Venezuela and Colombia of the existing trouble is not repulsive, not foreign to Venezuela, it being always understood that Venezuela's national honor will in no way suffer thereby, and that during the past fortnight this idea has grown and has secured increased following in Caracas, where the possibilities of an amicable settlement are more or less occupying public attention. Venezuela recognizes the fact that the maintenance of a large army on the frontier is exceedingly costly, without benefiting the country.

Wonderful Automobile Records.

New York, Oct. 11. — World's records for the automobile from one to six miles inclusive were literally blown out of sight at the Empire City track by Henri Fournier, the French chaffeur, accompanied by W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. The fastest mile of the six was made in 1:06 4-5, compared with Fournier's world's record of 1:13¼, made recently on the Fort Erie track. Albert C. Bostwick, with an American vehicle, preceded Fournier in a trial for records up to and including five miles. He did the first mile in 1:13 2-5, established new records for three and four miles, and for half an hour held the record. Then Fournier came out, accompanied by Mr. Vanderbilt, and put the world's figures far in the background. Fournier's slowest mile was made in 1:08 3-5. Fournier will next week attempt to make a mile in 1 minute.

To Check Obstruction.

London, Oct. 11.—The difference of opinion existing among members of the British government as to the best means of dealing with Irish obstruction in the house of commons was illustrated by a remark which Sir Michael Hicks-Beach let fall during his speech in Oldham. The chancellor of the exchequer invited Liberals to cooperate with the government in bringing about a reform of parliamentary procedure and effectually checking obstruction, but he declared that obstruction would not be cured by any reduction of the representation of Ireland in parliament.

Severe Storm.

Shenandoah, Ia, Oct. 11.—A severe wind and rain storm visited this place. A dozen business houses were more or less damaged and several small buildings were blown to pieces. The Burlington roundhouse was wrecked and the roof was blown from the electric light plant, leaving the city in total darkness. No one was seriously injured. The water transformed several streets into small rivers, and a large poultry packing house was blown to pieces and washed away. In the country the roads were impassable and considerable stock was drowned.

Mexico Interested.

Phoenix, A. T., Oct. 11. — Joaquin Diaz Brieto, who is closely in touch with the affairs of the government of Mexico, and who was recently appointed Mexican consul here, said that the commercial interests of Mexico are particularly anxious for the construction of the isthmian canal, and that the government is gratified over the probable abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

Tommy Ryan Disqualified.

Kansas City, Oct. 11.—George Green of San Francisco got the decision over Tommy Ryan in the sixth round of a bout at a local club. Ryan was the aggressor and had slightly the better of the fight, which was hotly contested, until he sixth round, when the referee gave the decision to Green, disqualifying Ryan for striking Green while on his knees.

Miss Stone's Whereabouts.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 11.—According to semi-official intelligence some shepherds informed a Bulgarian official that the brigands having Miss Stone in custody are now on the heights of Jokoruda, in Turkish territory.

SON TO SCHLEY

Captain Chadwick Discusses the Former's Messages.

HIS SIGNALS ALSO GIVEN A WHIRL.

Commander of the Admiral's Flagship Tells Why the Commodore Failed to Receive the Code—Other Witnesses Examined Before the Naval Court of Inquiry.

Washington, Oct. 12.—In the Schley court of inquiry, Captain F. E. Chadwick was called to the stand. During the war he was in command of Admiral Sampson's flagship, the New York, and also was chief of the admiral's staff.

Five other witnesses were heard during the day, two of them being officers of the New York. One of these was Lieutenant C. C. Marsh, the flag secretary of Admiral Sampson, who testified concerning dispatches to Commodore Schley, and the other was the ship's flag lieutenant, Lieutenant E. L. Bennett. Lieutenant Theodore G. Dewey, a nephew of Admiral Dewey, who served on the Massachusetts; Lieutenant Adelbert Althouse, also of the Massachusetts, and Lieutenant Francis Boughter, who served on the Marblehead, were the other new witnesses.

Lieutenant Dewey was a watch and division officer on the Massachusetts in the war. In reply to the judge advocate Lieutenant Dewey described the Santiago blockade in pretty much the same terms as others have done. When he was asked if he knew of any orders regarding what should be done if the Spanish ships came out at night, he replied: "No, I don't think we could have seen them if they had come out."

Several witnesses described the bombardment of the Colon in Santiago harbor. They intimated the attempt was a fiasco. In reply to questions by the judge advocate, the witnesses testified further that they had no information that the Spanish fleet would make a sortie from Santiago bay on July 3, 1898. They did not receive intelligence about smoke arising from the harbor. This questioning had reference to the theory of the Schley counsel that Admiral Sampson had reason to believe that the Spaniards were coming out, with the further inference, of course, that knowing that they were coming out he took the New York away to Siboney that morning.

Captain Chadwick's testimony related very largely to dispatches by Admiral Sampson to Commodore Schley, while the latter lay off Cienfuegos in May, 1898, and to the code of signals agreed upon between Captain McCalla of the Marblehead and the Cuban forces operating near Cienfuegos. He said this code had not been sent to Commodore Schley by dispatch because Captain McCalla had expected to join the commodore immediately and communicate the code to him. He also told of being present at an interview between Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley, in which the latter had expressed his intention to be loyal to the commander-in-chief. He related in detail the change of opinion concerning the whereabouts of Cervera's fleet by Admiral Sampson on May 21, between the sending of the two dispatches of that date by Admiral Sampson to Commodore Schley, one of which was dated at Key West and the other at Havana. Captain Chadwick said he had not approved of Admiral Sampson's dispatch on May 28, congratulating Commodore Schley on his accomplishments to that date. He said Admiral Sampson remarked that the message was intended merely to encourage Schley.

Admiral Sampson Recovering.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Medical reports indicate that Admiral Sampson is recovering from the fatigues of his journey south. The intense headaches from which he suffers recur less frequently. The principal obstacle in the treatment of his case, however, is said to be a great constitutional weakness. Recurring periods of absolute forgetfulness also have a depressing effect.

Miners Escaped.

Fairmount, W. Va., Oct. 12.—There was an explosion of gas in the Fairmount Coal company's New England mines near here. The gas ignited from a shot fired by one of the miners, and the loose coal at once taking fire, a big blaze resulted which filled the mine with smoke at a point where it prevented the exit of the miners for four hours. The flames were finally shut off by the putting up of brattices, and the men all came out unhurt. A mule was killed and a horse crippled, but no further damage was done. The fire is still raging in the mine, but it is believed will be under control in a short time.

Small Riot.

New York, Oct. 12.—A number of women and girls employed by the Cooper Wrapper company, Brooklyn, where a strike was in progress, were attacked on their way to work and many of them were badly hurt. A dozen policemen who had been detailed to keep order for the wrapper company's factory had hard work to quell the disturbance, and it was necessary for them to use their clubs to restore order. Rosie Solomon, said to be the leader of the attacking party, was arrested.

British Bark Consumed.

Tagal, Java, Oct. 12.—The British bark Bowman B. Law, Captain Gullison, from New York June 3, while discharging at this port caught fire and was consumed, and 19,000 packages of petroleum which were on board the [illegible] burned.

LETTERS IN EVIDENCE.

Charles L. McCoy Was Granted a Divorce From His Wife.

Charles L. McCoy was granted a divorce in probate court Friday evening from his wife, Mrs. Martha R. McCoy, on the ground of gross neglect of duty. Besides being charged with negligence in the home duties it was also charged that she wrote letters to young men who were not relatives. Some of these letters were put in evidence. The case was not contested. The plaintiff is a printer and is employed in East Liverpool. He was formerly employed in this city. Mrs. McCoy's old home is in Canal Dover, but she is now employed as bookkeeper for a firm in East Liverpool. Her maiden name was Martha R. King.

TAXATION IN EUROPE.

The Italian Is the Most Burdened Subject In the Old World.

It has been said that when a man is unhappily circumstanced he derives a sort of grim satisfaction from the knowledge that there is somewhere another unfortunate whose case is even worse than his own, says the London Mail. If this allegation be well founded, the British taxpayer, who has been fuming and fretting recently on account of the increased burdens placed upon him by the budget, should feel greatly comforted when he learns that he is not taxed anything like so heavily as other Europeans.

Take the Italians, for example. Their accumulated taxes are a positive nightmare. An Italian pays away in taxes 22 per cent of his earnings, compared with the Britisher's 9.3. The population of Italy is 10,000,000 less than that of Great Britain, and yet the income tax in the former country is made to produce as much as in the United Kingdom.

An even more striking comparison is that between Russia and Italy. Russia has a population of 93,000,000; Italy has only 30,000,000, and yet the total amount of the income tax is the same in both countries. Italy has a debt of £500,000,000, which is growing at the rate of £14,000,000 a year. The only way the Italians can escape the taxation is to emigrate, and this they are doing in considerable numbers.

France has £20,000,000 more taxes than Britain. Each inhabitant pays 11 shillings a year more than any one lucky enough to be living in the United Kingdom. Moreover, an Englishman's earnings are greater than those of a Frenchman. The latter devotes 13.6 per cent of his income to maintaining his country.

The German is much better off than his Gallic neighbor. He pays in taxes nearly 30 shillings a year less, or only 10.4 per cent of his earnings. Another proof of the prosperity of Great Britain is that, whereas each subject of the fatherland contributes £1 a year less to the revenue than an Englishman, he really parts with 1 per cent more of his wages.

Hollanders are more heavily taxed than Britishers. Substantial taxes are imposed on such necessaries as sugar, salt, soap and beef. The result is that each resident in the country of canals must needs set aside 15.1 per cent of his income to meet the requirements of the national expenditure.

OUR MINERAL WEALTH.

The Output of Last Year Valued at $1,070,108,899.

According to a report just issued by the United States geological survey at Washington, the total value of minerals of all kinds produced in the United States in 1900 was $1,070,108,899. The total production for 1899 was $1,211,361,861 and for 1898, $861,751,017. The total value of the metallic products was $552,418,627, the nonmetallic $516,690,262, and estimated value of mineral products, unspecified, $1,000,000.

Among the more important minerals there were 13,789,242 long tons of pig iron produced in 1900, with a value of $259,944,000 as against 13,400,735 long tons in 1899 and a value of $234,725,754. There was a total of 263,735,265 tons of coal, anthracite and bituminous, with a value of $306,890,364 as against 252,115,287 tons, valued at $276,147,056, in 1899.

There was a very perceptible increase in 1900 of the production of the precious metals. The output of gold increased from 3,391,196 troy ounces, valued at $70,096,021 in 1899, to 3,837,215 troy ounces, valued at $79,322,281, last year. The production of silver was 57,126,834 troy ounces, valued in the market at $34,036,168, in 1899, while in 1900 59,610,543 troy ounces, with a coinage value of $77,070,471, were produced.

POUNDING BULLER

For His Recent Damaging Admission. Rhodes' Letter.

London, Oct. 12—"General Buller's speech, pathetic in its weakness, is," The Spectator asserts, "the best possible justification for the declarations that he is not fit to command an army corps." The Saturday Review refers to his "petulant apology" as "sheer feminism." Sir Walter Peace, agent general for Natal, speaking in London, referred to the unfortunate utterances of Sir Redvers Buller, and said: "It must be ever remembered to General Buller's credit that he saved South Africa for Great Britain. But for his change in the plans on his arrival at Cape Town there is no doubt the Boers would have gone down to Durban, and in that case, in the light of what has since happened, there is no doubt the Cape Dutch would have risen and the British been driven from South Africa."

Rhodes' Letter.

London, Oct. 12.—The Spectator prints letters from Cecil Rhodes and the late Francis Schnadhorst (who from 1885 to 1892 was the chief organizer and adviser of the Liberal party), sustaining the sensational allegations made some months ago that Mr. Rhodes, in 1891, gave £5,000 to the Liberal party on condition that Mr. Gladstone would not bring about the evacuation of Egypt by the British troops. Both Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman (the Liberal leaders) have declared this was false. Mr. Rhodes said the money was turned over to Mr. Schnadhorst on condition that Mr. Gladstone would not father a policy having in view the evacuation of Egypt.

Women Attack a Car.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 12.—Two young women, Sarah Price and Genevieve Ford, were arrested by the police, charged with being the ringleaders of a crowd of 1,000 women and children sympathizers of the trolley men now on strike in this city, who attempted to prevent the opening up of the Lafayette street line in West Scranton. The crowd pelted the car, tried to drag the crew from the platforms and piled obstructions upon the track, some of the women going so far as to carry heavy furniture from their homes and pile it on the tracks. The young women arrested had aprons full of tomatoes, with which they assailed the car crews.

Cape Rebels Sentenced.

Middleburg, Cape Colony, Oct. 12.—Sentence of death has been passed upon Commandant Lotter, the Cape rebel whose commando, composed almost wholly of rebels, was captured by Major Scobel, south of Petersburg, early last month. Lord Kitchener has confirmed the sentence. Five of Lotter's comrades have been sentenced to the pen for life. Tell of Magic Results Brought About in Burning, Itching, Bleeding Skin Troubles by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment draws more praise from ministers, physicians and lawyers than any other medicine in the world. It is endorsed by every profession.

Extracts from their Letters.

Rev. W. N. Edwards, Baptist minister, 109 Trinity Place, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"For over fifteen years the itching piles have been a source of constant annoyance to to me and frequently, too, the suffering has become intense. At times there was bleeding and the itching and burning was beyond endurance. The results I have derived from Dr. Chase's Ointment have been magical and the benefits lasting. I feel it a duty to fellow sufferers to recommend it."

Rev. J. N. Van Natter, Methodist minister, Albion, Wis., writes:

"My wife was terribly afflicted with protruding piles and contemplated a surgical operation when her notice was drawn to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a cure."

"I then used it for an unsightly and troublesome skin affection, which baffled medical skill for twenty-five years. Dr. Chase's Ointment thoroughly cured it. For piles and skin disease it is worth its weight in gold."

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist minister, 192 Dunn avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes:

"Ten years ago eczema began on my ears and spread over my head and hands. During that time I was a great sufferer. I tried many remedies and some of the best physicians—specialists on skin diseases—treated me. The first box of Dr. Chase's Ointment gave much relief and five boxes completely cured me. I think my cure a marvel, and gladly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Just as good for every form of skin trouble, no matter how long standing. 50 cents a box all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
